EASTERN CANADA BUYS LESS COAL FROM U.S.

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—Use of substitutes for United States anthracite coal is growing in Ontario and Quebec. A million and a half tons of such substitutes will be used in Central Canada this present season, said Hon. Charles Stewart. In 1923, the aggregate tonnage of anthracite substitutes used in Quebec and Ontario was six hundred thousand tons. The increase is largely attributed to the use of coke.

Alberta coal, low volatile bituminous coals, British anthracite, and by-products coke are the four most popular substitutes for American anthracite.

PRIVY COUNCIL HALTS APPEAL

Dominion Government Had Asked Leave to Appeal From Decision in Its Own Favor

REQUEST MADE FOR USUAL PROCEDURE

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, stated this afternoon that a full official report of the hearing of the Dominion Government's application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council in the Alberta reference case has not yet been received. As soon as this information reached the Department the whole matter will be considered. In the meantime, there was no comment to make.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Mr. Eugene Lafleur, K.C., Montreal, presented a petition to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today for leave to appeal on behalf of the Dominion Government through the Attorney-General of Canada, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, against the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada on the question of the constitutional validity of Section 17 of the Alberta Autonomy Act, containing the educational provisions dealing with the separate school phase of Alberta's natural resources.

Alberta has not made any move in the matter, nor has any other body or individual.

NOT USUAL WAY

The Judicial Committee suggested that the petition should stand over a while in order to give opportunity for ascertaining whether the government can get an application in the ordinary way for leave to appeal.

Viscount Cave, Lord Chancellor, made this suggestion after the petition had been discussed by several members of the committee. Mr. Lafleur accepted the suggestion and said he would consult his clients on the matter. Viscount Cave's suggestions mean that their lordships are of the opinion that the proper parties to apply for leave to appeal are the parties against whom judgment was given in the Supreme Court, not the Canadian Government.

In effect, the government is seeking the appeal from a judgment in its own favor, although the decision in question was on a reference rather than on an ordinary case of litigation.

Today Canada was being made a dumping ground for surplus manufacture from the United States. Residents of Canada were following the natural products of this country across the line and helping to manufacture them there to be later purchased back in this country in the manufactured state.

ONE-THIRD OF VOTERS

Hon. T. G. Coventry, M.P.P., strongly advocated the organization of the young people. In Vancouver the Young Conservatives were the most active part of the workers in any election. It was organized that had played an important part in the winning of the last provincial election in Sanich. He said that it was estimated that one-third of the voters were between the ages of twenty-one and thirty.

The adult part of the riding, Mr. Coventry said, was well organized. He was of the opinion that no time should be lost to have the younger element put in as good a position.

Mr. W. O. Wallace, who had been delegate to the national convention of the party in Winnipeg, gave the information that the feeling of the gathering had been in favor of having organization of the youth as a separate unit. He outlined plans for the party carried out. In this work Hon. R. B. Bennett, the leader of the party, was strongly in favor.

Mr. Wallace said he was of the opinion that it would take a little time to carry out the objects of the movement. He felt that at first at least the social end should receive attention. He outlined plans for effecting the work along the lines that were adopted.

All of the speakers advocated leaving the young people to carry on their own affairs. Col. Wood offered on behalf of the parent organization an advisory committee to assist the young people whenever they so desired.

Doolan and Rafferty were examining a public building with considerable interest. "Doolan," said Rafferty, pointing to an inscription cut in stone, "pneum was thin letters MDCXXXCXXVII" means?

"That," replied Doolan, "means eighteen hundred and noisety-avien."

"Doolan," said Rafferty, after a thoughtful pause, "don't you think they're overdoing this spellin' reform a bit?"

AIRPLANES USED IN FOREST WORK

CANADA LEADS WORLD IN USE OF PLANES FOR PROTECTION PURPOSES

More Than 100,000 Square Miles of Forest Lands Photographed by Aerial Experts

MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—Airplanes are the principal means by which forest protection work can be carried out in a large and in an efficient manner. In forestry work they are used for many purposes, chiefly survey work and fire protection. Canada has not been slow in recognizing the utility of the air machine in forest work. Experts employed in the Dominion leads the world.

Two types of airplanes are used in the service, single seated planes fitted with wireless for protection work and heavier flying boats capable of carrying several men with pumps and hose for actual fire fighting. Thirty aircraft were employed in forest protection work during the past year, the aviators putting in 4,416 hours of flying during that time, and patrolling an area of 150,000 square miles in daily flights.

CANADA TAKES LEAD

Canada has not only taken the lead of the world in this phase of aviation but has also taken the lead in the employment of the airplane in aerial survey work, and the transportation of supplies to remote and inaccessible regions in her vast hinterland.

Canadians have employed the airplane in photographing over 100,000 square miles of timber or mineral lands during the past two years, and the demand for aerial photography from air photographs has been such that the Air Service has been unable to keep pace with it.

In transportation work the great advantage possessed by the airplane over the primitive canoe is readily apparent. Swift-flying rapids, and long portages which offered numerous difficulties in the past, offer no difficulties to the aircraft, and supplies may be rushed to remote depots in a few hours by plane which would have required days and weeks by the water route.

COST VERY LOW

It should be explained that an aerial forest sketch map is not a standardized product, any more than is a forest survey map made by the use of the ground. It shows essentially the same features, forest types, etc., and the amount of detail is controlled by the nature of the work. The cost of the sketch map is controlled by the nature of the work. World-Famous Stories

THE FEARLESS KNIGHT
ANONYMOUS

(This tale belongs to the age of romance in the literature of Italy, and is part of Italian legendary lore. In a story of this kind the best human virtues are exemplified in strong emblematic characters. This story was written anonymously by an unknown writer of the Thirteenth Century.)

Now it happened in the days of long ago that there was a Fearless Knight, so named because of his indomitable courage in any and all situations, however perilous. The king of the country was named Meliadus, and he was renowned far and wide for his bravery and skill with the sword. So it came about that the Fearless Knight and King Meliadus were mortal enemies of one another, and should they ever meet they must surely, it would seem, come to blows and each try to kill the other.

The Fearless Knight one day went forth, disguised, upon one of the secret undertakings that often required him to travel alone and unknown. It happened that he came unexpectedly upon a group of his enemies, the king's squire, who were holding him in good esteem, and knew him so well that they would surely have recognized him at once if his disguise had not been of the best. So pleased was the Knight that his disguise was not penetrated, and so fearless was he in any case, that he risked the anger of his squire in answering them.

"Verily, my friends," said the Fearless Knight, "so may Heaven be generous and grant me fair adventure, I swear that to the best of my judgment it is the good King Meliadus that yields the better sword. In fact, I think that King Meliadus is the best knight that ever strode a steed."

Now the squire of the Fearless Knight bore no goodwill toward King Meliadus, for his loyalty was all for their master and they knew that the king was his sworn enemy. They expressed at all times their hatred of the king for this very strong and sudden reason.

So, when the squire of the Fearless Knight thus heard their master accorded second place by an unknown stranger, they fell upon him and made him their prisoner by sheer force of numbers. Armed though he was, they placed him across the back of a poor palfrey, knowing that they would seek a good tree and hang him therefrom until he was dead. It was in this kind that these squire were determined to repay the insult given to their master, and they were still quite unaware that it was their master, indeed, who had fallen just now into their hands.

So, when they proceeded to look for a satisfactory tree to use for a gallows, however, it happened that King Meliadus himself came along, also in disguise. He presented himself as a wandering knight journeying to a certain tournament, where he proposed to win a name for himself. Thus he was riding fully armed and equipped for the coming joust.

Passing the squire, and seeing what they were about he paused to inquire from them: "Why do you wish to hang this knight, gentlemen? Who may he be that you intend to treat him so unmanly?" The squire stopped to reply to this civil question.

"He has well deserved to die, we assure you. If you knew our reasons as well as we do you would surely agree with us. If you really wish to know, ask him and let him himself tell himself out of his own mouth."

The disguised king, whom no one recognized, not even the Fearless Knight, approached the captive and said: "What have you done that these fellows should set about hanging you so unmanly?"

"All that I have done," said the prisoner, "is to tell them the simple truth."

"How can that be?" exclaimed the king in surprise. "How could you tell them the simple truth and cause them to attempt your disgraceful death? Tell me about it. Let me hear what you have really done."

"Most willingly, sir, stranger though you are," replied the Fearless Knight. "It is just as I have said—I told these men nothing but the truth. I was proceeding on my way when they accosted me and demanded that I swear, on the faith of chivalry, whether the good King Meliadus or the Fearless Knight wielded the better sword. I have always been desirous that the truth should prevail, no matter what. I therefore declared that, to the best of my judgment and knowledge, King Meliadus was the better knight. In this I meant only to speak the truth. King Meliadus is one of the bitterest enemies I have in the field. Actually I bear him no ill hatred and defiance, and yet I spoke the truth to these men as I saw it. That is all of my offense and I am to be punished for it as you see."

Directly upon hearing this amazing story, King Meliadus drew his sword and fell upon the group of squire who would have assassinated their courageous master. The valor of the king's arms quickly dispersed the men, who fled for safety far into the woods.

The king then returned and unbound the Fearless Knight, and they rode together several days. The knight still in disguise, then presented the Fearless Knight with his coat-of-arms, which were, however, concealed. The king made him swear that he would do as the stranger bade him, and they parted—rescued and rescued.

The Fearless Knight and King Meliadus, each in disguise, then rode their several ways. The knight dismounted at last safe in his own quarters and began to wonder who his savior might have been. It was certainly a valiant knight that could disperse the angered squire and the Fearless Knight was grateful for the generous act which had preserved his life. For it could not have been thought of that the Fearless Knight should try to convince his squire of his own identity in such a situation as that in which he had found himself.

The Fearless Knight, having kept his oath and waited until he reached his destination, went to his handsome charger, presented him by his benefactor, and lifted the covering of the saddle. There, fully emblazoned, he saw and recognized the resplendent coat-of-arms of King Meliadus, and was amazed. For the king had rescued him from an ignominious fate at the hands of his own squire, although they were admitted mortal enemies.

APPEAL WILL BE LAUNCHED

Litigation Promises to Be Prolonged in Connection With Rattenbury Lands

RIGHT OF ACTION IS DETERMINED

An appeal will be taken by the Department of the Attorney-General from the decision of Mr. Justice Morrison of the Supreme Court in the action launched by Mr. F. M. Rattenbury against the Land Settlement Board operating under government appointment. The decision of Mr. Justice Morrison was on a preliminary point regarding the right to take action against the board.

The contention of the board, which is shared in by the government, is that the situation is the same as if the government had taken the land over without the intervention of the board. Under the circumstances it is contended that it would be necessary to obtain a fiat in order to allow of any claim being taken to court to collect from the Crown.

The decision of Mr. Justice Morrison is that the board is a body that can be proceeded against, and that the situation differs from that of seeking action against the Crown. The matter in dispute in the court was one in which Mr. Rattenbury claimed heavy damages from the board for loss suffered by the taking over of lands that he held in the northern part of the province, and which had been taken up under the provisions of the statutes of the time, and which the Land Settlement Board was using for its purposes of settlement.

At once the matter reached court the preliminary question of the right of the action against the board came up. Mr. Justice Morrison took the ground on the part of that there was a right to proceed against the board. This matter will now be settled before anything further is done on the merits of the case.

The government will seek an appeal in the Court of Appeal of the province against the decision of His Lordship.

LESLIE STARLING GOES TO PRISON

Accused Is Given Two Months' Term—With Incomplete Care for Child, He Alleges

Leslie Starling was sentenced to two months' imprisonment yesterday by Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court for obtaining by false pretences a quantity of silverware and money.

Through counsel, Mr. Ernest I. Tait, the accused elected summary trial, and entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

Mr. Tait told His Honor that Starling was only twenty-three years of age, was a married man, and had one child. The accused had been working at Jordan River, and had just come out of hospital when he committed the offence.

City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison, in outlining the facts of the case, stated that the accused had gone to a certain second-hand store, and there had presented a worthless cheque for $24.50. He purchased silverware, and received another cheque for $9.50 in return for his own. This latter he cashed. The prosecutor observed that Starling had been in trouble before, being fined the sum of $20 in the Saanich Police Court in connection with the theft of a stove on February 23.

The accused asked permission to address the court. He declared that he had been in hospital and that his wife had come to him and said there was no food in the house. Driven to desperation he had used this last resort to supply necessities of life to his small child. He told his wife how he got the money he said, gave her five dollars and sent out for provisions. His wife got her hair curled, bought some silk stockings and a new dress with part of the money he gave her.

Mr. Harrison intimated that the charges which Starling made would be immediately investigated.

Alaska Act Superseded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Declaring that private dwellings in Alaska and other territory under the jurisdiction of the United States could not be searched on a mere charge of possession of liquor, and in holding that the search and seizure provision of the Alaska bone dry law had been superseded by the National Prohibition Act, the United States Supreme Court has ruled that the National Prohibition Act imposed a limitation on the right to search private dwellings which applied equally to Alaska with other portions of the United States.

The opinion handed down by the court yesterday was by Justice McReynolds in the case of Ole Berkeness, of Fairbanks, Alaska.

Testimony of Mrs. Carpenter

Tells How She Remedied Colds, Chills and Cramps

Rothsday, N. B., Nov. 23, 1927.—For the benefit of many mothers who don't know just what to do when sudden ills overtake the children, Mrs. H. L. Carpenter gives good advice: "For the last three years, I have used Nerviline and I find it a wonderful medicine. In our home we have used Nerviline for neuralgia, colds, chills and cramps. In each case Nerviline has given wonderful relief. For my children I employ Nerviline for chills, colds and pain in the stomach. I live in the country and find Nerviline a necessity to assist in overcoming the many small ills that constantly arise in the family."—Mrs. H. L. Carpenter. (Adv.)

OFFENDERS TO BE PUNISHED

MAGISTRATE JAY WARNS MOTORISTS THAT FAST DRIVING MUST BE CURBED

Will Impose Heavier Fines to Meet Situation—G. B. Paterson, Veterans Company Each Fined

Reckless driving and speeding in motor cars must be stopped, and offenders will be severely punished, Magistrate George Jay reiterated in the city police court yesterday in delivering judgment in the case of Gordon B. Paterson, who was convicted of driving his automobile to the common danger, and was fined the sum of $50.

"I said some time ago that if fast driving did not stop, fines would be increased. It is necessary that fines should be increased in order that drivers will be brought to a realization of their responsibilities," His Honor declared.

Through his counsel, Mr. Richard C. Lowe, Paterson pleaded guilty to a charge that on November 12 he drove his automobile to the common danger at the intersection of Fort and Vancouver Streets.

TELLS OF ACCIDENT

City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison outlined the circumstances of the case to the court. "The defendant was driving east on Fort Street at 11:55 p.m. on Saturday night, passed another car near the intersection of Vancouver Street, and then struck a third car, which had entered the intersection, turning it around and then over. One lady, he said, was rendered unconscious for half-an-hour and another person was injured. The car was damaged. The prosecutor intimated that the driver of the car which the defendant passed on Fort Street had said that he himself was traveling at a rate of speed of twenty-five miles an hour, and that the defendant was traveling faster than he was."

Mr. Lowe informed His Honor the defendant claimed that he was not going as fast as alleged, and did not see the motor car coming across Fort Street from Vancouver Street, which he struck.

PASSENGER INJURED

The second party to be fined $50 on a common danger charge by the magistrate yesterday was the Veterans Sightseeing & Taxi Company. Captain Frederick Holmes, 1596 Becher Avenue, was driving north on Rockland Avenue at 1:20 a.m. and when he proceeded to cross Pandora Avenue, a car going east on Pandora hit his car on its rear fender and springs, turning the machine completely around. His wife, who was in the back of the car, had her arm fractured and her head cut from flying glass, requiring two stitches. Witness was thrown from the driver's seat onto the floor of the car. He said the other car was driven at a great speed. Witness testified that he slowed down in approaching the intersection of Rockland and Pandora.

Mrs. Fanny Evelyn Holmes, wife of Captain Holmes, also told of the accident, and the injuries she sustained. "My husband, who was in the back of the car, was thrown from his seat and landed on his head on the floor of the car. He was injured and required two stitches. Witness was thrown from the driver's seat onto the floor of the car. He said the other car was driven at a great speed. Witness testified that he slowed down in approaching the intersection of Rockland and Pandora."

ENTERS DEFENCE

John Davies, who was driving for the Veterans Sightseeing & Taxi Company, which was defended in court by Mr. Harold A. Beckwith, and pleaded not guilty to the charge, said he was driving an Oldsmobile Six east on Pandora Avenue between twenty and twenty-five miles per hour, and that he checked the speed of the car a little when he approached Rockland Avenue, for he knew it was a dangerous corner. Witness said that Captain Holmes' automobile and the car he himself was driving collided at the intersection practically at the same time. Witness said he applied his brakes, and swerved to the left in an effort to avoid the accident.

Albert Edward Holmes, who was riding with Davies, also testified for the defence.

Ex-Drug Addict Gives Evidence Against Seller

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22.—Imported by drug distributors who knew of his falling a young ex-drug addict turned King's evidence and gave the would-be distributor into the hands of the police, according to the story told in the witness box at the trial of Louis Tim.

Tim was charged with distributing drugs to a white man, the witness met him and asked him if he did not want some drugs. Witness explained he only recently completed treatment for the habit, and wanted to keep clear. Finally he spoke to the police and the latter watched while witness handed money to the Chinese, and later obtained drugs.

Today Magistrate Shaw sentenced Louis Tim to three years in the penitentiary, with a fine of $500, in default of payment of which a further three months must be served.

Similar sentence was imposed in the case of Young Kam who pleaded guilty to distributing drugs.

COMPANY SECURES GOOD SHOWROOM

Frigidaire Corporation Has Branch Office Here for Handling Products

The Frigidaire Corporation, represented in British Columbia by the Bruce Robinson Electric (B.C.) Limited, has just opened a new branch office in Victoria, at 720 Yates Street.

Some fourteen years ago, Mr. Robinson, of Calgary, Alta., secured the franchise from the Delco-Light Company covering the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia. Starting in a small way, Mr. Robinson has built up one of the most outstanding specialty sales organizations in Western Canada, with eight branch offices in the three provinces. Mr. Robinson's success with the Frigidaire and Delco-Light, subsidiaries of General Motors, has made him one of the most important figures in the Western commercial world.

The extension of the branch in this city is in accord with the policy of Frigidaire Corporation in placing their products before the public in the most pleasing setting. Mr. R. W. Bishop, the manager for British Columbia, in his recent visit of inspection, stated that the showroom here was the best in Western Canada. It is attractively decorated, and displays the complete line of Frigidaire products.

Mr. Bishop further stated that the Frigidaire Corporation, through the medium of attractive showrooms and efficient service departments in all the large cities of North America, is expecting to keep its new twenty-million dollar factory under full-time production, and further uphold the reputation for quality and efficiency held by the parent company, General Motors.

Mr. H. J. Welch, manager of the Victoria branch, stated that Frigidaire had already received an attractive reception in Victoria, meeting as it does, the ever-increasing demands for both household and commercial refrigeration. Mr. Welch expressed himself as being positive that the confidence of the company was not misplaced when they extended their branch here, since he believes that the people of Victoria will be drawn from out of town.

NATION BUILDING

Premier Baldwin's message to the people of Canada, which he incorporated in a speech delivered before the Canadian Club in London, is to the effect that this Dominion should think in terms of centuries where measures are being taken for the development of the country. Brief as was his visit to Canada and necessarily cursory as must have been his observations, he has pointed an unerring finger to an essential in nation building. The boast of Canada is that it is a country for virile men, therefore, Mr. Baldwin says, "let it be filled with the best." He has heard, no doubt, of the population drift to the United States, and he indicates that it is desirable for this country to keep the stock it has and see that future generations are in no way inferior to this stock. In effect the advice is to "maintain values and standards," and it is notable advice at a time when so many interests believe in "pumping in immigrants," no matter from what source.

It is the part of statesmanship to think in terms of centuries. Legislation is no less for the present generation than for posterity, that is, if governments have anything to do with the upbuilding of a nation. In so many words Mr. Baldwin has said that nation building is a problem in biology, and therefore he wishes Canada to order her policies so that the stock which laid the foundations of this country will be preserved and increased by immigration and made the dominant factor in the Canada yet to be. To those in authority, whose mission it is to look ahead and attempt to visualize what the future of this Dominion will be, the words of Premier Baldwin should suggest that in the matter of building up population there is such a thing as being too much in a hurry. Hectic and hurried efforts to bring in new population will tend in the long run to defeat the true purposes of nation building. It is a slow process at best if the wisest course is to be pursued and the best results to be the reward of all efforts made. A few centuries matter not at all, at the end of them, the advice of Premier Baldwin has been followed; for then Canada will indeed have achieved as proud a destiny as her most ardent sons can desire.

A TALE OF THE SEA

A British resident of Portland, Oregon, writes a letter to The Colonist suggesting that something should be done in the extraordinary case of Captain Robert Pamphlet, who has been sentenced to serve a term of two years in the McNeil Island prison after being convicted on a charge of smuggling. The writer of the letter believes that the people of Victoria should be interested in the somewhat extraordinary case, because Captain Pamphlet is a native son of this city, where his father was a pioneer resident, and because the schooner he commanded, the Pescawa, was one of the best known vessels of the sealing fleet which was dismantled, scrapped or scattered in the interests of the fur seal and pleasant international relations. After he was convicted on the charge of smuggling Captain Pamphlet was released on bail. People who did not know the man assumed that having attained freedom, the captain would not return to serve his prison term after his case had been finally determined by the courts. The captain, however, is a man of honor as well as a skillful and daring seaman. He has surrendered himself to the authority of the United States, and probably has begun to serve the term of his sentence.

Three years have passed since the Pescawa was seized and her crew arrested by a United States revenue vessel. The memory of the public is short, and it is possible that the circumstances of the seizure and arrest are forgotten. Those circumstances were so remarkable that several Canadian newspapers have recently recounted them and suggested that something should be done. One Portland newspaper (we think it is The Spectator) has made an appeal not only to the public, but to the Government of the United States, on behalf of Captain Pamphlet. The following is the recital of the circumstances of the arrest of the captain and the appeal made to the President of the United States by The Spectator:

"Contrary to certain expectations," says The Journal, "Captain Robert Pamphlet, under sentence of two years to McNeil Island prison for running, is 'on deck' in Portland to begin serving his term." It seems that some folks thought Captain Pamphlet would break his word to the court and his bondsmen; however, they do not know this gallant and unfortunate Canadian seaman. Of course, he is a run-runner; that was clearly proved by the testimony of the crew of the coastguard cutter that captured him off the Oregon shore, and by the cargo that he carried, the Pescawa carried. Nearly three years ago, Captain Pamphlet took on a load of liquor, cleared from Vancouver, B.C., and set his course for a southern port. Off the Washington coast, a bitter wind was blowing and the sea was in an uproar, but Captain Pamphlet knew the seaworthiness of the Pescawa, and the crew had faith in their skipper. So they sailed on, and into the mouth of a bellowing storm.

"Off the Oregon coast, some thirty miles distant from the Columbia River, the lookout on the Pescawa sighted a ship in distress—the foundering Caoba, an American steamer that could not live in such an angry sea. Captain Pamphlet there and then decided a rather nice question, that involved the safety of his life and liberty, the lives of his crew, the loss of his ship and its valuable cargo, and the succor of the drowning Americans. He ordered out the lifeboats, and the glorious annals of the sea present no more splendid story than that of Captain Pamphlet's rescue of the nine American sailors from the sinking Caoba. While he was standing by to pick up any of the crew that might yet be alive in the tumbling ocean, the coastguard cutter hove in sight; and again Captain Pamphlet had a pretty question to decide—whether to make a dash for the open sea, and thereby save himself and crew and ship and cargo, and let his new-found and half-drowned passengers perish for lack of medical aid, or surrender and get the Americans instantly to shore. He signalled that his hands were up, and steered toward a hospital for the shipwrecked Americans and a prison for himself.

"Of course, Captain Robert Pamphlet is a smuggler; but he is also a splendid and gallant gentleman. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for a friend. Captain Pamphlet risked his fortune, his liberty, and his life for men who were not his friends—men he did not know, citizens of a country that rewarded his bravery with a two years' term in prison. If when he performed his fine feat of heroism he had been engaged in the commission of any offence other than one against the prohibition law, he would have been hailed as a hero. Unless President Coolidge sees fit to show clemency to this gallant sailor who so well upheld the best traditions of the sea, Captain Pamphlet will pay very dearly for his splendidly heroic act."

A MOVING MOUNTAIN

Phenomena in nature always exercise a mysterious hold on popular interest. Of modern happenings perhaps none is more calculated to attract attention than the accelerated movement of Monte Arbolino in the Canton Ticino. Already the inhabitants of the zone endangered by this movement have been ordered to seek dwellings elsewhere because it is believed that eventually Monte Arbolino will crash into the valley and that no human ingenuity can prevent this occurrence. The mountain is 5,560 feet high. Since 1886 it has been moving horizontally. It moved at the annual rate of an inch from 1888 to 1902, and from the latter year until 1919 at the rate of two inches. Then, from 1919 to 1924, the annual rate of movement became four inches, and in 1926 the movement had grown to eleven inches. In the process the mountain has become lower. The moving mass covers a surface of 2,520 square yards. All that it has been possible to do is to fell trees on the mountain-side to minimize the effects of erosion by rain. An annual survey of the mountain is now being made and the wide cracks and crevasses observed closely. It is now found that the trees on the slopes are leaning farther and farther out of the perpendicular and are already full of earth and rocks into the lower glens. Ultimately, if the movement continues, the location where villages now stand will be buried by rock and earth and a large area of agricultural land destroyed.

A change of government in New South Wales has brought to light the fact that the former Lang (Labor) Government had suppressed the Railway Commission's requisition for increased freight rates and fares to meet a railway deficit of £1,700,000. This disclosure has been followed by a further one to the effect that the total deficit in New South Wales in the current financial year will probably be £4,500,000. The Labor Government of that State seems to have lacked the honesty of taking the public into its confidence. In other words it was dishonest to the point of hoodwinking the people as to financial matters.

Words of Wisdom

It is quite certain that most of us are willing away our days in occupying positions far below our possibilities. We are making use of only part of our existing mental and physical powers and are not taxing them beyond our strength. Increased accomplishment and heightened efficiency would cultivate and develop them, would awaken the latent powers and tap hidden stores of energy within us, would widen the fields in which we labor and would open up to us new and wider horizons of honorable and profitable activity.—Walter Dill Scott.

As surgeons keep their instruments and knives always at hand for cases requiring immediate treatment, so should thou have thy thoughts ready to understand things divine and human, remembering in thy every act, even the smallest, how close the bond that unites the two.—Marcus Aurelius.

A wise man will select his books, for he would not wish to class them all under the sacred name of friends. Some can be accepted only as acquaintances. The best books of all kinds are taken to the heart, and cherished as his most precious possessions. Others to be chatted with for a time, to spend a few pleasant hours with, and laid aside, but not forgotten.—John Alfred Langford.

Every man has at times in his mind the ideal of what he should be, but is not. This ideal may be high and complete, or it may be quite low and insufficient; yet in all men that really seek to improve, it is better than the actual character. . . . Man never fails so low that he can see nothing higher than himself.—Theodore Parker.

We must not seek to abolish property, because at present it is in the possession of the few; we must open up the paths by which the many may acquire it.—Joseph Mazzini.

Be not unwilling in what thou doest, neither selfish nor unadvised nor obstinate; let not over-refinement deck out thy thoughts; be not wordy nor a busy-body.—Marcus Aurelius.

Favorite Hymns and Their Writers

By REV. ARCHER WALLACE

"COME THOU FOUNT OF EVERY BLESSING"

The author of this widely-known hymn was Rev. Robert Robinson, an English Baptist minister who passed away in June, 1790. His father died when the lad was only eight years of age. Young Robinson and his widowed mother suffered much through poverty, and at quite an early age he became an apprentice to a barber in London. A glowing prophecy of his future by a drunken fortune-teller made a deep impression upon him.

One day he went out to hear the great evangelist, George Whitefield, preach in the open air. While he was on his way he met a man who afterwards said that his attitude to the preacher and his congregation was quite typical. Like many others, he remained neutral. He also heard the searching words of Whitefield led to his conversion.

Although not brought up in that communion, Robinson was converted to a Baptist church in the city of London. He was ordained into the ministry and appointed a pastor of a Baptist church in the city of London. He was a man of great confidence and respect of the citizens there, and was widely known because of his forceful preaching. He remained in the ministry, and his original and fresh presentation of truth made a favorable impression on the people of that college town.

The hymn reflects the religious fervor of the eighteenth century in England. Because of the fact that he changed his denominational allegiance, some have thought Robinson was a man of changing moods, and that the hymn revealed his temper. A story is told that on one occasion when he heard a lady who was a fellow passenger by coach, quietly singing his hymn, he said to her: "Madam, I am the man who wrote that hymn some years ago, and I would give all I have, if I could sing those words and mean them, as I did at that time."

It is questionable whether there is any truth in the story. Mr. Robinson was followed in his pulpit by the preacher Dr. Robert Hall, and Dr. Hall on many occasions bore eloquent testimony to the very high regard in which Mr. Robinson was held by all the people of Cambridge.

Robinson was a man of practical temper. He did not hesitate to take up farming to augment his meagre salary. In addition to this hymn Mr. Robinson published several volumes of sermons which indicate that he was a man of sound scholarship. He also wrote the hymn, "Mighty God, While Angels Bles Thee." His fame, however, rests with his now famous hymn, "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing."

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

One matter that has been long over for next year's Council to deal with is the sale of the Stooke Lake timber. As a candidate for the Council, I wish to say that I am strongly opposed to any such sale. At the time Alderman Woodward was urging this matter, figures were published to show that logging a watershed did not result in any appreciable loss of water through evaporation. That may be so, but I have watched, over a period of twenty years, the effect of clearing timber from the watershed of one of those pleasant little English streams, which, as Kipling puts it, "have turned their mill and ground their corn ever since Domesday Book."

This particular stream, though quite small, had such an even flow all the year around that mills it turned (and in one short mile there were three) could not but have watched those mills working, caught fish in the stream and seen the sluice-gates absolutely black with millions of young fish migrating from the ocean to the inland pools. But the big estate that owned the watershed was broken up and the land sold and cut down. When I left that part of the world at the age of twenty-five or thereabouts, that stream, no longer even-flowing and fish-inhabited, was absolutely dry in summer and in winter. The rent during the winter rains and the old water-mills were just so many abandoned ruins.

Quite probably the total annual flow of that stream is much the same today as it was forty or 400 years ago but the trouble is that it comes down "all in a heap" instead of gradually, and the mud churned up by the rain comes with it.

Speaking therefore from actual observation, I prophesy that the effects of the sale of the Stooke Lake timber will be first, increasing impurities in the water, necessitating before long expensive filter beds, and second, increasing overflow in winter with correspondingly less flow in summer, necessitating before long the raising of the dam to maintain adequate storage for summer use.

Properly conserved, the watersheds owned by the city are capable of enormous development, both for irrigation and electric power, and any action that might imperil that development would be a disaster not only for the city but for the whole southern coast of Vancouver Island. The finances are rapidly improving, there is no pressing necessity to sell the timber for the purpose of raising money, and any such action is a betrayal of the trust. He is seeking a present benefit to himself regardless of the consequences.

November 22, 1927.

PROHIBITION PROPAGANDA
Sir,—I am advancing no opinion of my own except such as conditions that are verified by competent authorities. . . . I shall adhere faithfully to only such facts as I can at any time support by the statement of men in a position to know."

The above is culled from a letter by the Rev. Dr. Sippell to The Colonist. It sounds fine and serves admirably to coat his Prohibition pill. It also shows the intimate connection between good and evil because a man may be either the victim of a broad-minded man or a trimmer.

The Rev. Dr. Sippell, who lives by preaching faith, appears to be as greedy of facts as a dog, and that is where his "Reverence" gets out of his depth or into unfamiliar waters. If he argues that the Prohibition movement is a moral phenomenon he disparages the usefulness of his own ministry. But, since he appeals to facts to support his Prohibition proclivities, let him show that he knows. If he is a student of ecclesiastical history, that a most convincing array of facts can be adduced to prove that the church has been only a partial growth up Christianity.

The Rev. Dr. Sippell's letters show that even a minister of the gospel thinks in terms of the dollar, but it seems to be playing it low down to ask us to give up sin to save money. He bewails the enormous sums paid to obtain what he should know is a mere nothing.

Nelson roofs are beautiful. Nelson roofs are permanent. Nelson roofs are economical. Phone: E. 8, Heath, 874, or Bishop & McMillan, 4160.

are really the cheapest and most satisfying beverages in the world. He confounds the cost of drink with the exorbitant tax which is paid to obtain it. For instance, good beer could be obtained for a penny per glass but for the interference and taxation of governments.

One does not require a theological microscope to discover that Prohibition is the antithesis of Christianity. Christ's dictum that "it is not what enters a man that defiles him, but that which proceeds from him," and St. Paul's analogy that "all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any," are confirmed by human experience. Good and evil, like force and matter, are constant quantities. The prohibitionist vainly thinks that the devil, who is as all pervading as the ether, can be kicked out of doors.

Instead of confusing fact with phenomena it would be more honorable if these prohibitionist ministers would get out and preach the gospel, because in effect they say that it is "impossible to make any further advance in Christian virtues until we bow to the teaching of Mahomet." They may permit any theological antics they please so long as they keep off other people's toes. All we ask is the right to be as bad as they infer Christ is.

Their position as Christian ministers is too ridiculous if not actually blasphemous that they are often excused because they are sincere. Well, so was Philip the Second of Spain and so are rattlesnakes.

GEMS

This sapphire is a rare and lovely gem.

A thing a princess might be proud to own.

And set within a shining diadem To lend her lustre to her royal throne.

This pearl is gleaming with the moon's own light.

This diamond sparkling as the sun's bright ray;

The one could bring new beauty to the night,

The other add fresh radiance to the day.

And yet the eye that looks beyond the glow

And gleam of beauty, however fair,

That seeks some deeper loveliness below

The surface, finds new wonders there.

For pearl and sapphire were but sand and clay,

The diamond was but dust and once, long ago,

Who knows what splendors may evolve some day

From this dull self that mocks our longings so?

There are two ways to be rich: one is to have much; the other is to want little.

"GO NORTH" IS ADVICE GIVEN

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, Tells Kiwanians of Opportunities for Young Men in North

VANCOUVER ISLAND EMPIRE IN ITSELF

"It is an insult to the intelligence, initiative, ingenuity and application of the young men of British Columbia to say that they cannot go out and make a living in this province, which is richly endowed in natural resources," declared Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Provincial Minister of Lands, in speaking to members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club yesterday at their weekly luncheon gathering in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Mr. Pattullo said he was entirely at variance with those who believed that there were no longer great opportunities for the young men. He was cognizant of the opportunities awaiting development in the North, and for that reason he had chosen for his theme, "Go North, Young Men."

The speaker said Vancouver Island possessed wonderful possibilities and was an empire in itself. If this island were contiguous to Europe, it would have a population of several million people, for it has a diversity of resources that would make it possible. He recalled that Belgium, with less territory than Vancouver Island, had a population of 8,000,000.

RICH IN TIMBER

While Vancouver Island comprised only one-thirtieth of the whole area of British Columbia, it nevertheless possessed one-third of British Columbia's timber. There was an abundance of fishing, farming and mining on the island, which also had unsurpassed scenery and a wonderful climate.

Great development could be expected on Vancouver Island in the future, the Minister said, adding that there were industries "in the offing," which in the next few years will be developed and will become permanent, beyond a peradventure of a doubt.

Mr. Pattullo discussed the steady expansion of agriculture, and spoke of the clearing of land incident to logging operations. He said a great distribution of business followed from the establishment and operation of such industries as the Powell River paper plant, and the conversion of logged-off lands to intensive agriculture, which is now in process in that territory. With the creation of similar areas, the population will be increased and more agricultural lands will be developed.

DEVELOPMENTS TRACED

The speaker traced the developments which were taking place in the Fraser Valley, in Lillooet, around Prince George, in the Peace River country, the Bulkley Valley, the New Hazelton country, Stewart Lake district and Prince Rupert. The Minister said that the resources of the northern section of the province were being developed, and the great opportunities awaiting settlers.

"If the Queen Charlotte Islands were contiguous to Europe, they would have a population of 1,000,000 people," he asserted. The Minister said that if a person wanted to make a colossal fortune he could make it much faster in New York or Chicago than in Victoria, but it didn't say that by living in New York or Chicago he would be any better off than residing right here.

In closing, Mr. Pattullo emphasized that the Northwest was a land of vast possibilities and great opportunities. His advice to young men would be, "Go North," he affirmed amid prolonged applause.

EXPRESS APPRECIATION

President Harold M. Diagon, in conveying the thanks of the gathering to the speaker, said that Hon. Mr. Pattullo "has convinced us that opportunities for adventurous and aggressive young men still exist, and if given proper encouragement they will convert the Northwest into one of the most progressive regions on earth."

Kiwanian Charles W. Pangman announced that play in the medal round for the Humphries Golf Trophy would take place today.

The president congratulated the clubmen upon the splendid minstrel show which they are staging the first three nights of this week at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

TUBERCULOSIS CURE

TESTED IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22.—Apparent success from efforts to obtain a cure for tuberculosis were indicated here yesterday when the first returns from scientific tests of the treatment outlined by the late Dr. E. F. Permet were received by city officials. Five out of seven guinea pigs inoculated with tubercles from cows on which the treatment had been tried in Portland showed that one cow had recovered and another was "well on the way to recovery." Dr. S. G. Sonneland, medical director of the California Clinic, said the experiment has apparently proved the success of the treatment, adding that he is now conducting experiments with the remedy on human patients.

SPEECH GIVENHon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie Urges
Men of Present Day to Be Pioneers of Future
B.C.—Settlers NeededB.C. NATIVE SONS
CELEBRATE EVENT"It is the duty of every Native
Son of British Columbia to foster a national spirit in this Dominion, to forget that the East and West are separated by a few thousand miles, and above all to remember that we are part of the British Empire."Thus spoke Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Federal member for Victoria, in the Douglas Day address which he delivered at the banquet held by Vancouver Post No. 2, Native Sons of British Columbia, at the Shaughnessy Golf Club on the Mainland.
Dr. Tolmie was the principal guest of the occasion and delivered a fervent patriotic discourse which was liberally applauded.Dr. Tolmie said that Canada's connection with the British Empire was of the utmost importance and should never be severed.
The speaker believed that native sons of this province should be the pioneers of the future British Columbia.

A UNITED LAND

"Your forefathers, by hard work and staunch determination, made for us what we have today," Dr.
Tolmie continued. "It is for you to be the pioneers that will bring this great land to an even higher position in the future. Sink your minor political views, whatever they may be, in the efforts to make quickly possible what must come eventually, a successful, united land, with one aim and one nationality."
Dr. Tolmie declared that industries, natural resources and splendid climatic conditions all pointed the way to making British Columbia and adequate representation of Canada on the North Pacific. Only one thing was lacking in the province to enable her to take her part in that development when the time came.

PLENTY OF ROOM

"That," stated Dr. Tolmie, "is a sufficiently large population. There is plenty of room in the country for the right kind of settler, but foreigners who come here must be assisted, until they are imbued with the spirit of Canada, and in that way become real Canadians, they cannot intelligently take part in the development of the country."
Representatives of the Victoria,
New Westminster, Nanaimo and

Sons of British Columbia joined with the Vancouver members of the order in celebrating Douglas Day.FUR SALES BOARD

Victoria and District

By H. D. PATTERSON

The rainy weather of last week made it rather difficult for salesmen to induce buyers to go out and view property. Inquiries, however, are reported fairly numerous, and an undercurrent of very great confidence is in evidence in all directions. Prices are inclined to stiffen, and buyers are waiting for the annual arrival of people from the prairie provinces, with the usual speculation as to their numbers and buying tendencies.Following a canvass among the brokers, the following reported sales:
P. R. Brown & Sons, Ltd.—A house of six rooms on St. Ann Street to a local buyer; a bungalow of five rooms in the Oaklands district to a local buyer; also a lot on North

NEWS OF THE BUILDERS

finishing the construction of a stucco bungalow of five rooms on May Street. This contains as a special feature a large living-room with a bookshelves. The house is modern and up to the minute, with built-in its almost flat roof and position close to the ground, gives it a most a pitch, felt and gravel roof, with special troughs for gutters, which he feels will not fill up with leaves.

The living-room occupies a central position in the interior, with a large chimney fireplace. In the back hall is a special recess for a cabinet heater, from which the air will circulate through registers high up in the walls. Added to the kitchen is a cooler, laundry and fuel room. There will be a covered way from house to garage. A special

THIRD EDITION OF MAP SHOWING SASKATOON AREA

Certain information shown on topographic maps tends to become out of date as time passes. Even in long settled communities new houses are built, additional roads are improved, new gasoline stations are opened up, and this information is not then being shown on a map which was issued before these changes took place. Much more rapidly do such changes take place in a new country like Western Canada, and it is a problem not easily solved to keep all maps up-to-date.

The Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, which, in addition to other maps, publishes the sheets of the section map of Western Canada, has issued topographic map sheets for much of the older portions of the country and each year is gathering field information for new maps or for revising earlier issues.

At the present time a new edition of the Saskatoon map sheet showing a revision of the earlier edition is being issued. This map was originally published in 1920. The copies printed at that time were all distributed and a reprint was required in 1925 to meet the demand. This edition in turn is now all gone, but the new map is now available. It has additional information with respect to roads, buildings, telephone lines and other works of man. Water areas, contour lines, elevations and natural features generally do not change appreciably, so that this information is practically the same from one edition of a map to the next.

ENGLISH SONG IS RECITAL THEME

Interesting Programme Given at Vocal Studio of Mary McGehee

Songs illustrative of the work of English composers and an excellent paper by Miss Mary W. Hamilton, of Victoria High School, entitled "English Song Up to Purcell," constituted a delightful programme given at the studio of Mary McGehee Jamieson, 1001 Pough Road, on Friday last for an audience of students. Miss Hamilton traced the development of English song from the time of the Jules Angles and Saxons to the time of the "Great Purcell," whose influence on musical form in succeeding generations had been inestimable.

The hard of ancient days (Beowulf, A.D. 449), the works of the monasteries (Caedmon, seventh century), the roysters in the taverns, the singing dancers on the green and at the "Spring Festivals," the ballad singers, the kings and courtiers—all had contributed their part to the nation's expression in song.

With the Elizabethan period came the birth of the "art song," which expressed emotion and described some phase of nature more often than it told a story. One of the earliest "art songs," "Have You Seen But a Whyte Lillie Grow?" was taken from Ben Jonson and used in one of his plays ("The Devil's an Ass").

Reference was made to the outstanding composers of each century, of whom the names of two remain in the mind, Thomas Morley, the first known English song writer, and the great Henry Law, whose name was associated always with the "Masque."

Reference was also made to the songs of Shakespeare—those which he had taken frequently to serve his "turn" as well as those which with apparent ease he composed at will. Many of the latter lyrics had had such an appeal that they were composers of succeeding centuries had set them to music.

Few works of any description enjoy such popularity as does this symphony. Nor is the reason for such popularity far to seek; it rests without doubt in the delightful melodies which Schubert, with the "prodigality of genius," lavishes upon music.

Father Christmas Has Branch Factory Here

Within Month of Yuletide Local Toy-Making Plant Is Busy, Catering to Changing Fashions in Children's Amusements

Fashions change, even in toys, and children are now demanding two-tone color effects, balloon tires and disc wheels on their scooters and coaster wagons.

Green and red vehicles trimmed with light brown will be all the rage from December 25 on, while a sports wagon, fully equipped with roller bearings, brake, and a diminutive trunk in the rear will be seen among the elite of the children's automotive circle.

A visit to the busy Hiker Manufacturing Company yesterday disclosed this fashion forecast, which the local toy factory is carrying out for the Christmas trade.

The woodworking section of the factory on the main floor contains no overhead belling or shafts, all belts between the motors and the many machines coming up through the floor. There wooden parts for all the toys are constructed from raw lumber, which is loaded on a machine, designed by the Hiker Company.

Systematic lathe makes small wooden wheels and other circular parts and cuts them off one by one ready drilled. Other machines on the main floor include a jointer, band saws, circular saws, mortising and tenon machines, disc sander, shapers and grinding devices.

The paint shop is a colorful part of the factory. Here wooden and metal parts are dipped in local made paint and varnish and placed in an oven to dry. Very little brush work is done at present with the exception of trim lines and other ornamentation. Coaster wheels and scooter bodies are loaded on large trucks in tiers and taken to the paint shop to be dipped in the vat of paint.

In the machine shop metal parts are shaped and fitted in preparatory to being incorporated into the various toys. Metal disc wheels are shaped from sheet metal in two halves and then joined together by an electric spot welder, but a few seconds being required to complete the wheel. In another department rubber tires are fitted to the wheels, several tons of rubber being used yearly at the factory. Specially resilient rubber taking the form of a ball is used when wired on is used on the majority of wheels.

The assembly room, adjacent to the woodworking shop, as the name signifies, is where the completed parts take the form of bright colored toys to bring delight to the hearts of many children. Long rows of wheels, axles and bodies soon become finished articles are taken to the oreoom or shipping room.

WAIT FOR KIDDIES
In the storeroom rows of coasters, scooters, rocking horses, hobby horses, walking toys and kiddy cars lie waiting to bring joy to some youngster. A selection of small animals, and the familiar hobby horse, mounted on wheels with diminutive two-color automobiles are constructed for the younger children. Pedal cars and kiddy cars in several sizes with seated scooters are also designed for the younger children. Rocking horses, swans and turkeys and the familiar hobby horse are also made in various sizes.

A small four-wheeled vehicle known as a walk alone will be a popular article with the baby. The latest model is provided with six-inch wheels and rubber tires and is guaranteed not to tip over in training baby's first steps.

S.P.C.A. SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Miss Dora Kito Resigns From Post of Secretary After Seven Years' Service

The formal resignation of Miss Dora Kito from the secretaryship of the S.P.C.A. Society, held last evening at the Arts and Crafts room, Union Building. The announcement had already been anticipated by the members, who expressed their regret at the loss of so valuable an officer and at the same time their appreciation of the services which she had rendered to the society during her seven-year tenure by presenting her with a handsome silver table lamp and two silver flower vases. Mr. R. T. Williams, vice-president, in making the presentation on behalf of the society, referred in glowing terms to Miss Kito's association with the organization. Both in her official capacity and personally she would be much missed, and everyone was much indebted to her for her real and sincere interest in the work. In responding Miss Kito expressed her great regret at being forced to resign the secretaryship owing to the pressure of work in other directions, but she would still take an active interest in the society and its undertakings.

The meeting was well attended, and the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr. R. W. Hunter; first vice-president, Mr. R. T. Williams; second vice-president, Mrs. H. Crane; treasurer, Mr. Lindley Grease, K.C.; honorary auditor, Mr. R. Genn. The committee of ten is as follows: Mrs. Bass, Mrs. Burdon, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. G. G. Davies, Capt. C. Williamson, Mr. A. McCloy, Mr. B. J. Gadsden, Mr. Hudson, Mrs. B. W. Walker.

OFFICE NOT FILLED
The office of secretary has not been filled, but Miss Anderson has been officiated in this capacity.

The report of the retiring secretary, Miss Kito, contained a review of the year's activities. Questions dealt with had included the treatment of dogs in the North and Northwest, especially among Indians; the protection of cats, rodeo cruties, the shipment of old and unwanted horses, and many other matters; the society had been instrumental in securing the inclusion in the Queen Act of a clause making it a criminal offence to abandon cats in country districts and on byways. The perilous position occupied by dogs rising on running boards of motor cars had also been discussed. Animal Week had been observed as usual, a fancy dance being arranged for the children, and a tag day being held. It was noted that during the year Mr. George Allen, late N.W.M.P., and Provincial Police, had been appointed inspector to succeed Mr. G. T. Maurice, resigned. Mr. R. Thornton had undertaken the collection of funds. The newly-instituted society at Qualicum was making its influence felt. The society at Nanaimo, long established, was doing excellent protective and educational work.

The report of the inspector, Mr. Allen, noted that during the year the number of cases dealt with were as follows: Cattle, 13; horses, 92; dogs, 78; goats, 14; poultry, 19; cats, 50; sheep, 4; miscellaneous, 43; total, 310. Cases taken to court, 7; convictions, 6; dismissed with caution, 1. This list included the case of a Chinese garbage collector whom the society had endeavored to instruct in the care of his horse and harness, but as this had seemed futile he was taken before the city police court and fined $50 with costs.

WORK MADE HEAVIER
Lately the work of inspector had been made heavier by the number of calls in connection with the epidemic which was at present attacking both cats and dogs. Many reports of animal poisonings had been received, but these, with few exceptions, after careful inquiry, were found to be merely sickness from natural causes. An inspection of conditions for animals at logging camps had proved favorable. A new law prohibiting the abandonment of cats would help the work of the society considerably. Methods of killing poultry for marketing were found to be as humane as possible. Without legislation on the subject, improvement of the condition respecting dogs riding on running boards must rest with the appeal to the owners. Owners of dogs almost invariably have appreciated the information given concerning the injurious effects of leaving dogs out in inclement weather.

The inspector's report concluded with an expression of thanks to the members of his department, and to the chiefs of police of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt; the superintendent of British Columbia Police, Colonel J. H. McMullen; Inspector T. Parsons and Sergeant Robert Owens, and members of the local staff who had given valuable assistance to the society on different occasions; also to Mr. C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, and Drs. Hamilton and Keown for giving assistance whenever called upon.

The geography lesson had finished and teacher asked: Now, Bennie, can you tell me what an island is? Yes, m'am, said Bennie. An island is a place you can't leave without a boat.

Plays Her Own Life Story in Movies

KEMAL DASHA

LATIFE HANOU

A YOUNG Turkish girl walked into a motion picture studio at Biarritz this week and asked for a job. "Do you know anything about drama?" the director asked. "If you mean real-life drama, I'll say I do," she replied. "First I marry Mustafa Kemal, the Turkish dictator, an hour after I meet him. Second act: I become the real boss of a backward country. Third act: Kemal tries to open up a little harem in the presidential palace and then kicks me out when I protest. Fourth act: The silly girl goes home. Fifth act: She decides to go into the movies. And sixth act—finale—with your permission, she plays her own life story!" For Latife Hanoum, "The Turkish Josephine" has actually come to France to play her own life story in pictures—a story that sounds more like an Arabian Nights tale than a romance of real life.

"So This Is Marriage"

By JUDITH WEST

CHAPTER XV
Querret thought that quarrel the next morning I could scarcely remember it, as if it were something that had happened a long, long time ago.

All day I wondered about it. Why is it, I asked myself, that I no longer feel bitter toward Jim? Certainly Jim still felt that he had a perfect right to forbid me to do this or that, and I was quite sure that I would resist any attempt on his part to show that authority.

For the thing over which we quarrelled had not been settled when Jim picked me up in his arms—and what steely strong arms!—and carried me off to bed. What then, I asked myself over and over again, is this love between man and woman that can heal a hurt, cleanse a soul of its meanness?

What is this love between man and woman, a love so little understood, a love for which we apologize, what is it that it can unite two clashing, stubborn individualities?

I could not answer. I knew only that for us a new morning broke; that we put on, it seemed, fresh, clean souls.

Jim was all pepped up, exhilarated, full of business! He was carrying the world on his shoulders and hardly feeling the weight.

He hurried through breakfast, not even taking time for the second cup of coffee, hustled into his overcoat, grabbed his hat, caught me up into a great bear hug. It might have been the first morning of creation!

And the mood was on him when he came home for dinner. What could he do. He wanted action.

"A noble idea," I said. "How about putting up those shelves over the drain board that I've been wanting?"

Within five minutes he was down in the basement looking for odd scraps of lumber and before ten o'clock he had made three beautiful shelves. "Too bad," I thought, "that this house is so finished. It would be fun if only Jim could have helped build it."

As for me, I was seeking an outlet for my surplus energy as well.

It was time, I told Jim at dinner, that we were doing some entertaining. There was the dinner I had promised Vera. And, of course, we should have a dinner for his mother, the first dinner. The whole family, Jim's family, had been out several times to see the house and we had been over to Mother Jim's often for Sunday night suppers, but I had never before felt quite sure enough of my cooking ability to invite them to dinner.

Jim was awfully pleased over the suggestion and so I called up mother right away and we set the date for Thursday, giving me two days to get everything ship-shape. For she mother-in-law of mine. Not the least little speck of dust do you see in her house. Jim says when he was young he used to make him take off his shoes and put on a pair of house slippers as soon as he came into the house.

I thought of that all day Wednesday as I polished and scrubbed and dusted until the whole house looked like a great mirror with a hundred surfaces to catch the light.

Rescued From Lifelong Illness by Dr. Hamilton's Pills

"The best medicine I ever took was Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When my health was almost ruined through stomach and liver trouble, these wonderful little pills made me well. I had no appetite, and was miserably ill. All my life I felt frequently and sick. Today I am well, full of pep, able to work, sleep and enjoy my meals. I urge others who are feeling poorly to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."—(S. J. Montague, Rosemount, P.Q.)

Curry was to be the main dish. Jim suggested it, for it is a great favorite with his folks. I was glad to hear it, for I still have a real East Indian recipe for curry which an old retired sea captain in Oregon gave my mother a long time ago. It is as simple as anything, and even a cook as green as myself couldn't spoil it.

For curry one may buy almost any cut of lamb. My mother used to consider it one of her economical recipes, for she would buy breast of lamb or shoulder, but on grand occasions would get the leg, which she would dice into neat serving pieces.

I used to like to watch her make it, she was so painstaking in all of her cooking. First, she melted a tablespoonful of bacon drippings in a big frying pan; in this she fried a big minced onion until it was delicately brown.

When she removed this she browned the lamb in the same fat and then put the onions into the pan. Over all of this she sprinkled a few drops of lemon juice.

While the meat was browning she would get out a little square of cheese cloth and tie in it one small head of garlic, three cloves, two small spice, four pepper corns and the peery of half a lemon. She also added one small potato and one small apple, both diced.

The whole stew was then turned into a regular stew pan, covered tightly and simmered until the meat was tender. If the gravy wasn't thick enough she thickened it with a bit of flour and cream.

Curry, of course, should always be served in a border of rice. The fun of having a curry dinner is in collecting all the traditional condiments and accompaniments.

Mother used to serve all the odds and ends of spiced things she had lying around—especially spiced figs or peaches, chutney, of course, and chow-chow. When she could get it she also added a vile smelling native product called Bombay duck.

The salad that seems to go best with this sort of dish is made of grapefruit halves sprinkled with chopped mint and mixed with a delicious French dressing.

Jim left the office early and brought out the guests in the rattling antique. There were three of them: Mother and Daddy Jim and the kid sister, Willoughby—Willie for short.

How indignant Willie would be to hear me call her "kid sister." She is all sixteen and is just at the age when she is beginning to find her own wings quite strong, if you please.

A late child, she has been spoiled to death by a father who thinks she is the smartest thing under the sun and by a mother who understands as little as a mother hen does a chick.

"Now, mother," Daddy Jim is always saying, "don't fret yourself over Willie; she knows how to take care of herself."

It is amusing to see this great, tall, severe-looking man being twisted around the finger of his flapper daughter. But that, it seems, is the way with men of iron. I sometimes wonder if he and Mother Jim would not have been happier and more companionable.

When Sourness Pain and Bloating Follow Every Meal
Make This Simple Test for Swift and Sure Relief

To quickly prove ninety per cent of stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary and that you can eat and enjoy most any food you really want—get from your druggist some Effervescent Magnesia (powder or tablets) and take a little after your next meal. It is a simple, inexpensive test that can be depended upon to prove its value in less than five minutes. In most instances, relief comes instantly!

Effervescent Magnesia is a pleasant, harmless, non-laxative form of old-fashioned Magnesia, which, when taken after meals, cleanses, sweetens and neutralizes the dangerous acids that cause most stomach troubles. One day's trial will convince you—ask your druggist for Effervescent Magnesia today. (Adv.)

able now if she had had something of Willie's impudence in her makeup; if she were not so willing, like Annie Laurie, to tremble at a frown.

Well, anyhow, they were all as sweet as they could be about the dinner. Daddy Jim said it was the best curry he ever ate, a most unflattering remark to judge from the tightening of his wife's lips.

Willie reached over and slapped me on the shoulder with such good-will that my fork clattered out of my hand.

"Judy, old girl," she said, "you're all right, and I'm for you. You're some fifty little wileder of the skillet."

Now I can't explain why I should have felt a certain tension all evening, as if an invisible, unfriendly presence were hovering over the room. I was aware of it, the first time, when Mother Jim was admiring Jim's shelve.

If you could have seen the pride in her eyes! She put her arm lovingly about him and looked up into his eyes with such a wealth of mother-love in them that I turned away as from a scene too intimate, too sacred to see.

I went over to the stove and stirred the curry. I heard her say, low and reproachfully: "They're beautiful, Jim; but you never made anything like that for your mother."

How proud of his handicraft she was! How jealously she loved him! And Jim is devoted to her; she represents his womanly ideal, a perfectly natural reaction for an only son. The old dear is quite unconscious of the fact that he is attempting to make me over into her likeness. Would he love me so well if I should yield to the shaping?

I wonder. Willie, with her jazz after dinner, did much to dispel that feeling of tension. But it was while we were sitting about the fire and I saw Mother Jim's eyes get wide with horror that I knew she had, at last, found a way of giving voice to that pressure.

She hurried over to Jim and knelt at his feet. "James, dear!" she cried, "you have a hole in your sock."

Set of Hats, Collar and Handbag Appears in Variants
—Boutonniere Starts a Fad

An engaging example of the ensemble idea is the little set of hat, collar and handbag introduced by a Paris milliner, says an article in The New York Times. The first of these ensembles consisted of a hat in one of the queer or small walking shapes, made of felt or cloth. The collar, which was intended to take the place of a fur piece, was made in the shape of a high choker to fasten at one side with buttons or with one end drawn through a slit to keep it a very close fit. This was and is in the present variant is a chic outfit that makes for comfort and may suitably be worn with any tailored frock or suit. The set, as it is known in Paris, is made of the same material with frame of antique silver tortoiseshell or any of the new metals.

The latest accessory ensemble is a much more stylish affair, being made of lame, silver or gold. For this one of the new turban shapes is used, making a hat that may be worn for formal afternoon or dinner at a restaurant. The design is not especially new, being one of several draped arrangements, with no trimming other than an occasional ornament or one of the many pins that are still so fashionable. The collar that is shown with the toque is a combination of fur—mink, ermine, sable or any of the novelty furs—and lame. These are rather small, rather snug in fit, and it is considered smart to add one of the new boutonnières or flowers to the fastening, always at one side toward the back of the neck. The bags, envelope purses and vanity cases designed to complete the ensemble are made of gold or silver cloth with a delicate ornament frame. The clasp and sometimes the entire top of these bags are finely chased, studded with synthetic stones, jade, agate, quartz, coral and all the other pretty semi-precious stones.

The real Parisian ensemble is a wee cluster of buds in different harmoniously assembled colors. These are composed of all the Dresden flowers—in blue, pink, yellow, mauve, with touches of silver and gilt and

TOC H. GROUP IS NOW UNDER WAY

Mr. H. T. Ravenhill Appointed Chairman and Mr. Charles K. Morrison Correspondent

Rev. Harry B. Ellison yesterday declared the local Toc H group under way with the appointment of Mr. H. T. Ravenhill as chairman and Mr. Charles K. Morrison as acting correspondent.

The officers of the newly formed body are at present only provisional and the group is on probation until its activities receive official recognition from the provincial executive. The group will be promoted to a branch in about a year's time and permanent officers elected.

"The group has not been formed to duplicate the good work done by service clubs and other organizations," said Mr. Ellison last evening, before his departure to Eastern Canada. "Toc H embraces all men from sixteen years of age and up who wish to join, and serves as a power house for personal service, providing workers in a hundred different ways. Toc H groups start slowly and carefully building up a membership of men who have their hearts in the cause, and the community will gradually realize its presence not by what it may see, but by what the group does," he concluded.

The first meeting of the new group will be held on November 28, at 8 o'clock, in the Cranleigh House School, 2184 Cadboro Bay Road.

Motorist Convicted

Ten days in jail was the sentence imposed by Magistrate George Jay, in the city police court yesterday upon Charles F. E. Crawford, who was convicted on a charge of being in control of an automobile while intoxicated.

Sergeant Thomas Heatley and Constable James Strong said that they found Crawford sitting behind the wheel of his automobile, which was parked at 12:15 a.m. on a branch in Pandora Avenue, with the bumper of the car against a tree. The accused was drunk, both officers declared.

Robert Love pleaded guilty to driving his motorcycle to the common danger on Douglas Street, and was fined the sum of $20.

Pleading guilty to driving his motor car on Hillside Avenue without a motor licence, R. Beveridge paid a fine of $10.

Oatman Gets Goal in Montreal's Victory Over Gotham's Best — Canadiens, Boston and Ottawa Chalk Up Victories

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Displaying a brilliant offensive Montreal Maroons vanquished N.Y. Rangers 4-3 in a N.H.L. contest here tonight, before a crowd of 8,000. Canadian defence, led by Gardiner and Mantha, successfully covered up Hainsworth. Lepine scored two of the local counters. A major penalty was given to R. Smith in the middle period for rough playing.

BOARD REJECTS HUBBARD MARK

Amateur Athletic Union Finds Fault With Take-Off in Broad Jump and Timing in 100-Yard Dash

MANY RECORDS ARE GIVEN APPROVAL

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 22.—Because the take-off for a leap was an inch higher than the landing pit, Dehart Hubbard, famous Negro athlete, is deprived of a new world's record broad jump. Hubbard jumped twenty-six feet two and one-quarter inches in a meet here last September 17, but the Amateur Athletic Union today rejected the record. The former University of Michigan star already holds the world's mark of twenty-five feet ten and seven-eighths inches. Faulty timing at the same meet also was the cause of rejection of a world's record equalling performance by Hubbard of nine and three-fifths seconds for the 100-yard dash.

Sabin Carr, of Yale and Dubuque, Ia., is now the official possessor of all world's pole vault records as a result of the A.A.U.'s approval of his indoor mark of thirteen feet nine and one-quarter inches, made last February in New York, and his outdoor figure of exactly fourteen feet made in the intercollegiate championships in Philadelphia.

31 MARKS RECOGNIZED
These outstanding records also were approved among the thirty-one track and field marks recognized altogether.

Indoor—800 meters in 1:54 by Alan Heffrich, New York A.C.; 1,000 meters in 2:26 3-5, 1,000 yards in 2:12 4-5 and 1,500 meters in 3:55 4-5, all by Lloyd Hahn, Boston A.A.

Outdoor—100 yards in 19 3-5, equalling record, by Chester Brown, Newark A.C.
440-yard hurdles in 52 3-5 by Johnny Gibson, Bloomfield, N.J.
440-yard relay in 41 by Newark A.C.

Decathlon, 5,754.42 points by E. F. Atkins, University of Nebraska.
Among the women athletes, Helen Filkey, Chicago, was credited with three national titles for the sixty-yard dash and the seventy-yard low hurdles, indoors, and sixty-yard hurdles, outdoors.

Of the ninety-four swimming records accepted, twenty-two were was not a rough game, only ten minor penalties being imposed. These were evenly divided between the teams.

Summary
First period—No score.
Second period—No score.
Third period—1, Boston, Clegghorn, 11:40.

Penalties
First period—Fredrickson, Keeling, Gorman.
Second period—Gagner, Gorman, Day.
Third period—Shore, Patterson, Hitchman (2).

OTTAWA BEAT COUGARS
DETROIT, Nov. 22.—After passing through a first period in which Detroit made its only goal on a shot by the champion Ottawa Senators pushed over two goals to take the opening game of the N.H.L. season here tonight from the Cougars. A lightning in of the Senators' defence held the Detroit attack in check while first Nighbor and then Finnegan sent the puck into the net. Both Ottawa goals were on passes. Nighbor's assist being from Killea and Finnegan's help from Nighbor.

Summary
First period—1, Detroit, Sheppard, 12:00.
Second period—2, Ottawa, Nighbor, 1:11.
Third period—3, Ottawa, Finnegan, 5:00.

Penalties
First period—Finnegan, Sheppard.
Second period—Noble, Walker, Traub, Halliday.
Third period—None.

COLONIST OWLS ABLE TO SKATE

Surprise Themselves by Defeating Keating, Sheppard, in Great Hockey Classic

Displaying dazzling speed, The Colonist Owls puckchasey stick-handled their way to a 6-1 victory over the Sanich Sheiks at the Willows Ice Palace last night before nobody. The winners outskated, outshot and outscored their opponents at every stage of the game. The second game of this series, to decide which is the better team, will be played on November 31.

The first period saw the Farmers playing their best hockey. They were successful in holding their fast-moving opponents to a one goal lead, the score being 2-1. In the second session, during which subs were rushed to the bench with about as much frequency as the clicking of a clock, the Newswies gathered in another counter to give them a two-goal advantage.

The third period saw the Farmers sweating under the dazzling attacks of their opponents, and, but for the sensational work of Brooks, guarding the hemp, it would have been necessary to use a cribbage board to keep track of the score. This goaltender, of no mean style, stopped shots that were labelled for the back of the hemp.

Red Lawson of the winners, was the best man in the ice, and was successful in snaring four of his team's counters. Sturrock and Andy Veitch accounted for the other Colonist tallies. Tubman scored the only counter of the game for the losers.

Sid Westendale, of Commercial League fame, refereed, and Claude Belcher was judge of play. The teams were:

Colonist Owls: Brown, Pickup, Veitch, "Red" Lawson, Sturrock, Elliott, Jealousie, McDonald and Ward.

Sanich Sheiks: Brooks, W. Kersey, Nichols, W. Sluggett, Tubman, R. Kersey, M. Kersey and C. Sluggett.

Arts Defeat Science

KINGSTON, Nov. 22.—Arts won the Rugby championship of Queen's University yesterday afternoon when they defeated Science by the score of seventeen to one in the interfaculty game.

BOXERS AWAIT SOUND OF GONG

Local Lads Rounded Out Training Last Night for Tonight's Card at Tillicum Club Gymnasium

TWELVE BOUTS ARE PROMISED

Fight fans will make their way to the Tillicum Athletic Club gymnasium, Broad Street, tonight, to witness what promises to be one of the finest boxing tournaments staged by the club. Twelve bouts have been lined up by Matchmaker Bert Bailey. Previous cards have met with great success and tonight's venture is expected to surpass all earlier ones. The first bout will start at 8 o'clock.

Gillotte, the fighting Italian, who scored a K.O. over Neal in his last appearance, has been matched with Sammy Sivertz in what should be a lively affair. Gillotte is in first-class condition and packs a nasty wallop in each mitt. In Sivertz he will meet a tough battler.

NEAL IN COMEBACK
Neal, the fighting barber, will be out to stage a comeback when he meets Len Woodley. Both lads are fast and capable of putting up a good scrap.

Cliff Dawley, who was landed the sleep-producer by Charlie Storch in the last fight, has been matched with a newcomer by the name of Gilmer, from Sidney. Dawley gave away reach and weight in his last fight, but with a man near his own weight and reach, he is capable of putting up a good exhibition.

Charlie Storch was matched with Howwood, of Vancouver, but telegraphic advice received yesterday stated that the Mainland fighter was suffering from an injured knee, and is unable to make the trip. Efforts are being made to match Storch with one of the members of the 16th Canadian Scottish.

Other lads who will be seen in action tonight are as follows: Sutton, Proby, Leak, Dempster, Shoul-dice, Tivey, Drysdale, Coates, Keith, Smith, Richer, Service, Martin, Keef, Nicholls, Pusey and A. E. Barber.

Three Hoop Games Carded for Tonight At Centennial Gym

Three basketball games will be played at the Centennial Gymnasium tonight with the first contest starting at 7:30 o'clock. The programme is as follows:
Men's "C"—Gyros vs. Foresters.
Ladies "B"—Axioms vs. Spencers.
Men's "B"—Normal School vs. C.P.S.

J.B.A.A. to Practice

J.B.A.A. Rugby tea will hold a practice at the clubhouse, Belleville Street, tonight at 8 o'clock. All players are asked to turn out.

Slow Camera Catches Golf Swing

THE GOLF SWING FRONT ELEVATION

By SOL METZGER

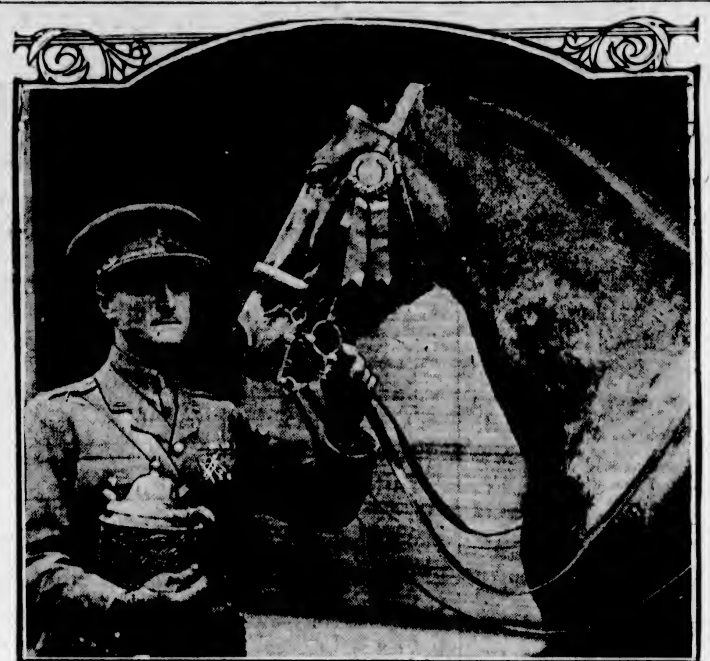

The golf swing is a hard art to picture. By taking many prints of motion pictures and tracing the club head it was finally run down. There are two oddities to it at first glance. These are quite easily comprehended, once the principle of the swing is clear. As it is a good idea for the golfer to know just what the swing is, let us go to it.

In the upper drawing you will note the flatness of the swing at the start of the backswing. These seem to be the puzzle. In the first instance the flatness is caused by the fact that you should take the club straight back with the left hand and with left arm for some twenty inches. Then you begin the pivot or wind up. Immediately the swing begins to circle back. When the pivot has been completed the wrists then break, hence the sudden dip down in the arc at the top. Going through the same arc on the downswing is certain. Result is you hit the ball with the club head going straight through on the line of flight. Study these sketches, get the idea of the swing in your mind. It will make it easier to master. Tomorrow let's look at MacDonald Smith's driving. With Saranen he recently conquered Tommy Armour and Johnny Farrell.

Mrs. Hall Wins Hidden Hole Round at Colwood

Mrs. W. W. Hall won the hidden-hole competition yesterday at the Colwood Golf Club for the captain's prize, donated by Mrs. F. C. Abel. The C.L.G.U. medal winners for 1926-27 at the Colwood Golf Club were: "A" class, Mrs. R. L. Pocock and Mrs. W. H. Lawson in "B" class.

From Remount to Blue Ribbon Winner

Major R. S. Timmins, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, and his wonder jumper, Bucephalus, who was "just a remount" once, was purchased from a Wingham farmer for $175, and after taking everything in sight at the Royal Winter Fair, moved for new fields to conquer. He was the blue ribbon winner at the forty-second exhibit of the National Horse Show Association, held at Madison Square Garden, New York city recently.

WARATAHS WILL PLAY ON COAST

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22.—The thirty-eighth annual general meeting of the British Columbia Rugby Union was held here last night, with Gordon A. Cameron, of Victoria, in the chair. Reports of the retiring officers were read and adopted, the secretary-treasurer, R. P. Woodward, showing a satisfactory balance in the bank after exceptional expenditures had been made in connection with the deplorable death of Captain Murray of last year's Victoria team.

Fixtures arranged were as follows, subject to alteration to suit the test matches with the Waratahs.

DALHOUSIE TO PLAY HERE

A keen desire was expressed by the Victoria delegates, speaking on behalf of the many old Maritime Province people residing on the Island, to have the Dalhousie Varsity team play at least one game in Victoria, and if possible to meet their wishes if it was decided. It was also decided to incorporate the Union under the British Columbia Societies Act.

The following officers were elected for the current season: Honorary president, His Honor Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce; honorary vice-presidents, George Jay, of Victoria, His Honor Mayor L. D. Taylor of Vancouver and L. S. Klunk, Esq., the president of the University of British Columbia; president, Wilfred C. Sioes; secretary-treasurer, E. P. Woodward.

CAT-CALLS GREET DECISION AGAINST PANAMA FIGHTER

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Al Brown, Panamanian featherweight, who has been a big drawing card in Parisian boxing for more than a year, lost the decision tonight in a thirteen-round fight with Henry Scille, of Belgium, the European titleholder. This is the first defeat that Brown has suffered in France. Brown outboxed Scille by a wide margin for ten rounds, but then tired. The crowd was with Scille all through, but there was considerable chorus of cat-calls, at the end from those who thought the Panama boy should have received a better break.

RECORD CROWD WILL WATCH BALMY BEACH AND TIGERS IN FINAL

The first inter-service boxing championships to be staged in Victoria will be held at the Armories, Bay Street, Saturday, under the auspices of the 16th Canadian Scottish. Boxers, from the militia units, both here and on the Mainland, will be seen in action in addition to members of the permanent forces and the navy.

The lads are working out nightly for the bouts. Championship cups will go to the units of which the successful competitors are members. The last card staged at the Armories proved an outstanding success, but those in charge of the coming event are confident that it will eclipse all previous ones.

LEADERS FACE STRONG TEAM

Rennie & Taylor Midweek Soccer Aggregation Will Battle Tillicums at Royal Athletic Park Today

TWO ADDITIONAL GAMES CARDED

In an effort to hand Rennie & Taylor their first defeat, Doug Fletcher, manager of the Tillicums midweek soccer aggregation, will trot out a strong eleven today. The Bakers have dropped one point in six games, and are occupying first place with a two-point margin over the Hudson's Bay.

The Departmentals will stack up against Saanich United at Beacon Hill, lower ground. The youngsters have strengthened their line-up and expect to give the Bays a hard game. Victory today for the Hudson's Bay and defeat for the Bakers will create a tie for first place honors.

Strategy Is Wrong Play at Right Time

QUARTER SENDS SAME BACK THIRD. BACK THREE STRAIGHT TIMES. HE IS THROWN FOR TIME—A THREE YD. LOSS SECOND TIME.

ON HIS THIRD ATTEMPT HIS TEAM IS PENALIZED FIFTEEN YARDS FOR HOLDING—

YOU'RE SO DUMB YOU'RE SMART!!

HE RUNS 27 YARDS THEN TACKLE ON HIS THIRD ATTEMPT

BY AL DEMAREE (Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Strategy may be said to be doing the wrong thing at the right time. Here is a little story that proves the efficacy of this kind of strategy.

In the game between the University of Chicago and Indiana University this Fall the Maroon quarterback called for Vin Libby, star half-back, to take the ball through tackle. Libby plunged at tackle and gained a yard.

On the next play, the Maroon quarter sent Libby at the same tackle, and he was stopped, the Maroons at the same time drawing a penalty of 15 yards for holding.

On third down, it seemed that any play in the category would be good except Libby at tackle, but that was exactly the play the Maroon quarter called, and Libby broke through for twenty-seven yards and first down!

COAST WILL GET AMATEUR GOLF EVENT

Pebble Beach Course at Del Monte Will Be Scene of First Title Rounds on Pacific in 1929

U.S. OPEN TO BE HELD IN JUNE

Walker Cup International Matches Will Be Staged at Chicago Golf Club August 30 and 31

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The first amateur golf championship to be decided on the Pacific Coast will be played over the Pebble Beach course at Del Monte, Calif., in September, 1929. The date will be determined later.

Announcement of the selection of the California course was made today by H. H. Ramsey, secretary of the United States Golf Association, who also announced the dates for the national competitions of 1928.

Definite assignment of the 1929 amateur to California carries out a policy announced some time ago of a wider geographical distribution of the classic. The annual meeting of the United States Golf Association will be held in New York on January 7. The executive committee fixed June 11 for the qualifying round in the various districts for the next open championship, which will be played June 21, 22 and 23 at Olympia Fields, Chicago.

The public links championships will be played July 31 to August 5 at Pebble Beach course, Philadelphia. The 1928 amateur championship will be played at the Brae Burn Country Club, East Newton, Mass., has been fixed for September 10 to 15.

The women's championship is scheduled for September 24 to 29 at the Virginia Hot Springs Golf and Country Club, Virginia Hot Springs, Va.
The Walker Cup international matches will be held August 30 and 31, at the Chicago Golf Club, Wheaton, Ill.

COURSE TO BE ALTERED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Although already considered one of the most difficult courses on the Coast, the Pebble Beach course of Del Monte, Calif., will be improved and remodelled to the extent of $30,000 for the National Amateur golf championship in 1929.

Roger D. Lapham, one of the directors of the United States Golf Association announced today, that the officials of the Pebble Beach course had agreed to make extensive improvements for the classic. He said the work will be done by either Robert Hunter, of Pebble Beach, or R. Chandler Gane, Medford, Ore.

WILL SETTLE TITLE CLAIM

Tommy Loughran and Jimmy Slattery Matched for Bout for Light-Heavyweight Championship

LOMSKI WILL MEET WINNER

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The controversy as to who holds the light-heavyweight championship was settled today when the bout between Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Slattery, of New York, for a fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden, was announced.

Loughran's claims for the title were accepted by the New York State Athletic Commission when the Quaker City youth whipped Mike McGuire here this Fall.

The venerable Michael received the crown direct from the hands of the Commission following the victory of Slattery's withdrawal from the championship to mingle in the future with heavyweights. The National Boxing Association, representing the board of twenty-five states, recognized Slattery as champion following Delaney's abdication. Matching of the pair had been held up previously, as garden authorities announced, by refusal of Slattery to accept less than 37-1-2 per cent of the "gate" the champion's end in New York.

The winner will meet Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, Washington, challenger in his first title defence over a fifteen-round round in the Garden, January 6. Matchmaker Jess McMahon announced.

Marlybone Cricketers Score Easy Victory

KIMBERLEY, S.A., Nov. 22.—The touring Marlybone Cricketers Club team defeated Originals today by an innings and twenty-five runs. The scores were:

C.R.C. for eight wickets: Originals West, 118 and 172. The feature of the second innings of the South Africans was the batting of Tapscott, who scored seventy-five. He hit the A.C.C. bowlers with delightful freedom, his innings including thirteen fours.

Two boys who had met on holiday were boasting about their respective homes. "Ours," said one, with considerable pride, "has a lovely story on it." "And ours," retorted the other, not to be outdone, "has a beautiful mortgage on it."

FOLEY DRAWS WITH CARTER

Canadian Boy and American Battle Six Fast Rounds Without Any Result at Seattle

SEATTLE, Nov. 22.—Vic Foley, Vancouver, and Leslie "Wildcat" Carter, 130½, of Everett, Wash., failed to settle their dispute when they fought a six-round draw to-night. Each fighter holds a decision over the other in the previous battles here.

They started to exchange blows from the gong, with Carter on the offensive and Foley countering solidly. During the first round Carter upset Foley with a stiff left, the Canadian's glove hitting the mat. They both tried to score at infighting in the opening rounds, but without noticeable success. In the third round, Foley rocked the Everett Negro with a right, "Wildcat" countering by cutting a long gash over the Canadian's right eye.

Foley jarred Carter again in the fifth with both a right and a left, but he was obviously tired, while the "Wildcat" was still fresh. They finished the final round as they started, Carter keeping both hands going, but missing a lot, while Foley swung always to score.

KITCHENER GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT; NIAGARA BEATEN

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—The Rovers, this city's entry in the Canadian Professional Hockey League, advanced to a tie for the leadership of the league when they defeated Niagara Falls, 2-2, here tonight in a close contest that went fifty-five seconds into overtime.

KITCHENER, Ont., Nov. 22.—The undefeated record of the Kitchener Militaires in the Canadian Pro League was marred here tonight when the powerful Detroit Olympics trounced them 3-0.

Still Another Chess Game Ends in Draw

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 22.—The thirty-second game for the world's chess championship between Jose R. Capablanca, the champion, and Alexander Alekhine, Russian challenger, was adjourned tonight until tomorrow, after forty moves.

A $10,000 Two-Year-Old

THE international aspect of the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto was emphasized strongly this year by the exhibition of a large shipment of champion stallions from England, Scotland, France and Belgium. The horses, including Clydesdales, Percherons, Suffolks and Belgians, were brought to Canada in October by W. J. McCallum, of Brampton, Ontario, and Regina, Sask. The shipment arrived on board the Canadian Pacific freighter Bolingbroke and Bosworth and represented what is considered the finest assignment of horses ever to cross the Atlantic.

A notable stallion with the group is Lord Willington, photographed above, a Clydesdale champion many times over and considered one of the finest ever bred overseas. While the shipment proper, including over 100 horses, will be sold by Mr. McCallum throughout the West this winter, Lord Willington will be taken back to Scotland by the owner, to be used for breeding purposes. This horse was purchased by Mr. McCallum at a price exceeding $10,000. It was the only two-year-old winning double championships in Scotland this year, being champion at the Royal Show, Newport, Wales, and champion at the Tilmarnock Show.

Mr. McCallum's optimism for the horse industry in Canada has prompted him to spend about four months each year touring the four countries mentioned and making a personal selection of the stallions available for export.

At The Playhouses

COLUMBIA Speaking of Thrills—THEATRE George Melford took his company to China-town to get more realistic sequences for his new production, "Going Crooked," showing at the Columbia Theatre for the last time today, and ran into a regular long battle because of the costumes his native actors wore. An extra squad of police was called to quell the near riot that followed when actual shooting started. Marvelous horsemanship, thrilling rescues, hairbreadth escapes, popping bullets, red-blooded action, beautiful photography of exquisite vistas are the elements of high-tensioned entertainment in "Driftin' Thru," which is also showing at the Columbia Theatre.

PLAYHOUSE "See You in Jail," THEATRE now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The play is laid in the Southern California metropolis and the downtown streets, Pershing Square, and the bank of cells in the city jail, all have their parts to play. Jack Mulhall is featured with Alice Day opposite him. A famous jockey who lost his nerve for riding in an accident, but got it back in the excitement of a race he had to win, is the interesting principal character in "The Sunset Derby," also showing at the Playhouse Theatre. William Collier, Jr., who is featured with Mary Astor in the picture, plays the role of the jockey.

CAPITOL The family of which THEATRE Walter Long is a member has many generations of seafaring tradition behind it. Even Walter, the one member who deserted the sea for the stage, maintains the family tradition by habitually appearing on the screen as a sailor or ship's captain. The latter is the role he fills in Universal's "Back to God's Country," starring Renee Adoree, now showing at the Capitol Theatre. The stage specialties for this week include The Georgian Singers and Players in a superb musical presentation; The Gibson Sisters, a novelty comedy dance team in "Tersichorean Antics." The concert orchestra will feature "Honolulu Moon," that ever popular Hawaiian waltz.

COLISEUM With an excellent THEATRE comedy photoplay preceding them, the Ray Bell Stock Company is winning fresh laurels this week at the Coliseum in their second play, "The Balloon Girl." This week's offering is vastly different from that of last week, but equally as enjoyable. It shows each of the members of the troupe in different roles from last week, and it is almost a draw as to which of several is the best. The plot of this play is quite old, but with new twists, and there is a great quantity of comedy material well handled. "The Balloon Girl" is surely a worth-while offering, and the company are capable of doing it justice. A new "Polish and Perimeter" picture, "April Fool," is the screen feature attraction.

DOMINION One of the unique features of "The Fair Co-Ed," now at the Dominion Theatre, Marion Davies' new starring production, is the appearance of almost a dozen college students who are related to famous film folk. One thousand members of various California college and university student bodies were employed to play in the picture in order to give it the proper college atmosphere. The fact that the relatives of so many famous film folk were chosen is due to the fact that most of the directors and stars are sending sons or brothers to colleges on the Pacific Coast. Very popular are the "Four Playmates," a novelty musical act, which is appearing at the Dominion this week. Their act is one of the brightest entertainments seen and heard in local theatres for some time. Every member of the combination possesses a pleasing voice and they excel as soloists and harmony singers. Their act is also replete with comedy and novelty offerings.

Famous Comedy
"What Price Glory"
Comes to Dominion

Every soldier will tell you that he had a lot of fun out of a war. Ask any reminiscence veteran of the A.E.F. or some erstwhile gob of the U.S.N. and they will smile and say, "betcha." But ask a leatherneck, a soldier of the seven seas, what he thinks about it and your answer will be "hot dog." The comedy end of war was what impressed Winfield R. Sheehan, general manager of Fox Films, when the job of making a screen story of the Stallings-Anderson play was undertaken at Hollywood. Laughter of the uproarious, deep-down kind is promised when the picture, "What Price Glory," has its premiere at the Dominion Theatre next week. Victor McLaglen, soldier of fortune, captain in the world war, and a capital actor, is the Captain Flagg of the story; Edmund Lowe is Sergeant Quirt, and lovely Dolores Del Rio will be seen as Charmaine.

Auditor of Western Fuel Corporation's Books Gives Evidence Before Conciliation Board at Nanaimo

OIL AND HOG FUEL REDUCE COAL SALE

NANAIMO, Nov. 22.—The board of conciliation which is inquiring into the dispute between the Western Fuel Corporation of Canada, Ltd., and its employees resumed its sitting here this morning.

Judge Baker, the chairman, asked if there was any chance of finishing the evidence today. Mr. Lett, who is appearing for the company, said that there were only two more witnesses to be called, and unless the cross-examination of those witnesses took more time than he expected, the evidence would be concluded today.

David Irvine, representing the men, explained that following the suggestion of the chairman, when the sessions adjourned last week, they had tried to arrange a meeting with the company to ascertain whether or not a settlement was possible. However, the company had not seen fit to accede to their request for a conference.

The chairman said he could understand the position of the company as they probably wanted to get all the facts of their case before the board.

The first witness called today was Frank Richardson, a representative of the firm of Price, Waterhouse & Company, auditors, who had charge of the company's books. In answer to questions he stated the total net profits for 1924 was $22,215.70. As against this there was a total capital expenditure of $149,000. For 1925 the net profits were $102,455 with capital expenditures of $127,942. In 1926 the net profits were $19,038 with capital expenditures of $32,554.

No dividends were paid for nine months of this year, profits were $38,190 and the capital expenditure $38,270. No dividends have been paid at any time since the incorporation of the present company.

Arthur Webb, general sales manager of the company, with headquarters in Vancouver, told of the effect fuel oil had in regard to ships formerly supplied by his company. Hog fuel, a preparation of sawdust and shavings also was being extensively used by apartment houses and industries, and was reducing the sale of coal. He said eighty per cent of boats coming into Vancouver harbor were oil burners, that a regular line to the United Kingdom burned oil from Vancouver to certain points where they took on coal, because it could be purchased cheaply. These boats had been former customers of his company and quoted figures to show there had been a general slump in the business of his firm.

CHEMUNUS, Nov. 22.—The Girl Guide committee held its monthly meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dobinson. A few business matters were under discussion, after which Mrs. Dobinson served tea, the remainder of the time being spent in sewing for the stall which the Guides will have at the I.O.D.E. sale in December. Those present included Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. Halbert, Mrs. A. Work, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Bahman, Mrs. Halberg, Mrs. W. Porter, Mrs. Sawyer and Mrs. J. Cook.

HIGH SCHOOL DANCE IS GREAT SUCCESS

Cumberland Pupils Enjoy Annual Event—Jack Hill Is Winner of Special Prize

CUMBERLAND, Nov. 22.—The annual dance of the Cumberland High School held at the Ili-Ho Hall on Friday night was a brilliant success. The spacious ballroom had been beautifully decorated by the pupils. The blue and white, the official colors of the school, formed the foundation of the color scheme and with multi-colored balloons in profusion, produced a very gay effect. Music for the dance was supplied by the well-known local orchestra, the Canary Club Boys. Exactly at midnight, Archie Dick addressed all present, and on behalf of the committee, presented to Jack Hill a beautiful fountain pen and pencil set as a prize for selling the most tickets for the dance. Jack was very successful, and accomplished the work of several pupils. The dance terminated at 2 a.m., and was voted by all present a very enjoyable affair.

High School Pupils Have Narrow Escape In Motor Accident

CUMBERLAND, Nov. 22.—A nasty accident occurred here just after the close of the annual High School dance on Friday night. A Franklin car, conveying some of the dancers back to their homes, left the road at the junction of the Highway and the Cumberland Road. Two of the occupants, W. Shelly, of Parksville, and a youth named Kimlove, were taken to the Cumberland General Hospital. It is reported that seven young people were in the car, and it is regarded as a miracle that more of the occupants were not seriously injured, as one of the wheels of the car was found 200 yards from where the car left the road.

CAR CRASHES INTO SPEEDER

Four Lose Lives in Accident on Logging Railway Near Union Bay, Three Being Married Men

RUNAWAY OCCURS ON STEEP GRADE

COURTENAY, Nov. 22.—A sad fatality occurred at the Dollar Logging Camp, twelve miles south of Union Bay, last night, by which four men lost their lives. George Lee, married, with two children, until recently of Nanaimo; Arthur Debeck, married, of Deep Bay; Julius Debeck, single, his brother; and William Pearce, married, of Deep Bay.

The party of four loggers were returning to supper at about 5:45 p.m. on a speeder owned by them. It was a car with flanged wheels, made to run on the rails of the logging railway to carry them to and from their work. A train of flat cars had just passed them going up the hill about three miles from the beach. The men were on a siding when the train passed them, and after it passed they immediately resumed their trip to the beach.

It is presumed that a car became detached from the train, rushed back down the steep grade and overtook the speeder. The Debeck brothers and Pearce were instantly killed and George Lee died a few minutes afterwards.

Constable Johnston rushed to the scene from the provincial police headquarters here, and supervised the removal of the bodies. An inquest is being held here.

WARM WELCOME IS GIVEN DR. TOLMIE

DUNCAN, Nov. 22.—The Hon. S. P. Tolmie, Conservative leader, addressed an audience of about 200 persons at the Opera House last night. He had an enthusiastic welcome, and his address upon the political questions of the day was well received. Mr. C. F. Davis, M.P., also addressed the meeting briefly. Mr. W. M. Dwyer occupied the chair. Tonight Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Davis will address a public meeting at Ladysmith.

Seattle Clubman Has Convulsions When On Trial

SEATTLE, Nov. 22.—The manslaughter trial of F. Creigh Nelson, wealthy Seattle clubman, was halted in superior court today when Nelson was seized with a nervous convulsion and removed to his home. He and Captain Amery F. Bell, former skipper of his yacht, are charged with manslaughter in the death of Miss Violet Maude Payne, young music and dance teacher, who drowned last Summer when she fell into Lake Union while leaving a party aboard the yacht. The state alleges that they stood by and made no effort to save the drowning woman. Nelson collapsed without warning while the opposing counsel was arguing a technical point this afternoon.

While the accused man was being given medical attention, his mother also broke down. Nelson was removed to his home, where it was said he might not be able to attend further sessions of the trial.

BOY DROWNS WHILE OUT DEER HUNTING

MISSION CITY, Nov. 22.—Teddy Kennedy, thirteen, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Stone Kennedy, was drowned while out deer hunting with his brother, George, on Monday.

The two lads, who had gone out early deer stalking in the upper reaches of Suicide Canyon Creek, near Dewdney, were returning on Monday afternoon with a large buck. To lighten their load they were towing the carcass down the creek.

NOMINATIONS FOR BOYS' PARLIAMENT WILL CLOSE TODAY

With the closing of nominations for the Older Boys' Parliament set for today, it is doubtful if any additional nominations will be forthcoming. The number was brought to four yesterday by the nomination of Jack Wallace, of the First United Church. Polling for the three seats in the local constituency will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on December 3, from 6 to 8 p.m., with Vivian Shoemaker as returning officer. They had leading the poll will assume office as a member of the cabinet.

Junior High School Favored in Nelson

NELSON, B.C., Nov. 22.—Nelson School Board last night extended an invitation to Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education, to visit Nelson on December 3, to go into the question of a junior high school here. Congestion in Central School makes it necessary to finish Trafalgar School, and the board, after studying the theory of the junior high school and inspecting those at Vancouver and Penticton, is sold on the idea of applying this principle in Nelson.

Steel Man Dies

MR. W. B. GEORGE VISITS VICTORIA

OPERATOR REPORTS ON GEORGE COPPER COMPANY'S PROPERTY IN STEWART

Consolidated Company Conducts Investigations Into Potential
Ore Bodies

Mr. W. B. George, whose name is so closely identified with the now famous George mines in the Stewart camp, is in the city for a few weeks, accompanied by Mrs. George, registered at the Dominion Hotel. Mrs. George shares with her husband keen interest in matters pertaining to the development of mineral properties. She has been the constant companion of Mr. George in his mining operations.

The visit of Mr. and Mrs. George to Victoria at this time is made possible by the fact that as managing director of the George Copper Company, the former is now away for the winter months awaiting the resumption of the development work carried on under the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company on the property, which course is as possible while the snow is on the ground.

There have been repeated reports in this city and elsewhere in the south that the Consolidated had taken over this property. These reports would seem to be at least pretentious according to the information given out by Mr. George. The Consolidated, according to all the evidences, would appear to be satisfied with the progress of the investigations, and is being made by the engineers on the ground.

Mr. George declares that he is not in a position to say anything with respect to the plans of the company. He explains that as managing director of the George Copper Company he is officially charged with the duties of the office under the arrangements of the Consolidated.

Under that arrangement the Consolidated undertook within two years to expand upon the property a considerable sum in exploratory work. With two diamond drills on the ground this has been in progress all Summer under the entire management of the Consolidated. The amount that is to be expended is credited to the company in lieu of stock in the company, and at the end of the two-year term of the option the big mining corporation would have control of fifty-one per cent of the mine.

On the top of that, there is an arrangement that the Consolidated at the end of this working option may take up another block of stock belonging to shareholders, and which is now on deposit in the bank awaiting the decision of the big company following the investigation into the possibilities of the property.

In reply to a question from The Colonist representative as to the expenditures made so far by the Consolidated on the property, Mr. George said that there had been a sum in excess of the proportionate amount which would be expected in time spent there this Summer. As far as he was concerned, he said the arrangements were satisfactory. Further than this he did not feel in a position to say anything. The Consolidated was carrying on its business along its own lines and independent of him, although he was ready at all times to give them any information that would be of assistance to them.

CHARGE LAID AGAINST W. BURNS AND OTHERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Charging intent to bribe and intimidate the Fall-Sinclair oil jury, the Government today obtained from the District of Columbia Supreme Court an order compelling Harry Sinclair, William Burns and four of their associates to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court.

William J. Burns and W. Herman Burns were charged with producing "the making of a false affidavit purporting to show that a representative of the Department of Justice approached and held conversation with Norman L. Glascock," one of the jurors in the case.

DOMINION FINANCE

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—The Dominion Government will, it is expected, shortly call the market for a loan of $50,000,000. Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, now has the question in hand.

Mr. Robb has already taken care of the revenue of loans maturing in November to the amount of $37,000,000. There still remains a loan of $63,000,000, which falls due on December 1. Part of this will be met out of accumulated revenues, but how much will depend on revenues still to come in. The probabilities are that Mr. Robb will need about fifty millions.
